Letter of Recommendation

Hannah Werner, born 28.05.1999 in Cologne, worked at THREAKS for her mandatory internship between the 01.03.2020 and 31.08.2020. THREAKS is a game development studio located in Hamburg, Germany, and is focused on creating original IP games for PC/Console, mobile, as well as AR/VR platforms.

Hannah's internship included the following tasks:

Game & Level Design:

- Conception and implementation of level sections in the game engine (Unity3D)
- Conception of time travel-based game mechanics and puzzles (conception and documentation)
- Rough implementation of game mechanics and game scenes for internal test purposes and further use in production
- Participation in game & level design meetings
- Quality Assurance tasks such as testing games and documenting program errors

Narrative design:

- Conception story plot lines following game scene design
- Writing and editing game script for dialogue scenes
- Conception, writing and elaboration of extra game content in the form of text documents for additional background knowledge about the environment and the citizens in the game (world building)
- Participation in Narrative Design specific meetings

General:

- Insight into planning methods and production documents for game development
- Handling and use of production planning tools for agile software development
- Insight into the scope and presentation structure of business-oriented "pitch" documents

During her time at THREAKS, Hannah was always very motivated, hardworking and committed. She showed strong initiative and the ability to quickly pick up the necessary knowledge and skills relevant for her work. She also impressed with her high level of creativity and was actively involved in the conception and development of the projects.

Our team was overall very impressed with Hannah's reliability, her friendly nature and her ability to work in a team. We really enjoyed working with her and would be delighted to work with her again in the future.

We thank Hannah for the great cooperation and wish her continued success and all the best for her personal and professional future.
